Gandhi’s era

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi, a lawyer who had graduated from London, became an integral part of the Indian National Movement from 1917. His first opposition came against the British Rule in South Africa where he was thrown out of 1st class compartment of a train as in South Africa only whites were allowed to travel in 1st class.

He vowed to fight the mighty British Empire with just two weapons – Truth & Non Violence. Satyagraha was the term used to define his policies.

Principles of Satyagraha are:-
- Identify Truth (Relative Truth or Absolute Truth)
- Fight using Non Violence
- Insist on Truth
- Change the mind and heart of opponents through self-suffering.
- Make God a witness of your deeds
- Be Fearless

| ➢ Industrialist referred the issue to a tribunal which awarded 35% plague bonus to the workers. |

| Kheda Satyagraha – 1918 |
| ➢ The peasants in Kheda, Gujarat complained that they could not pay land revenue as there was drought and hence no crop output. |
| ➢ According to a 20th century British Government law, land revenue should not be collected from a peasant who has lost more than 50% of the produce. |
| ➢ Statements of the peasants were observed by Gandhi and he asked the peasants not to pay taxes. |
| ➢ The government observed this and passed a circular stating that revenue must be collected only from those who were in a position to pay. |
